Break free

It's about a world filled with infinite possibilities. A world where every day holds the promise of discovery, whether it is a way of doing things, a way of living your life or a way of living your dreams.

It's about the freedom to realise your full potential by embracing your past even as you run forward, into the future.

It's what we believe in DiGi.

He's a Trekkie. He plays the drums. He plays ball. His most wanted game is Age of Empires 3. He wants to conquer the world someday, not with weapons, but drum sticks.

Is there space in his world for a house without nails?

She loves Bratz. Her favourite dress is the blue gingham smock her grandma made for her. She likes Saturdays because her family eats roti canai for breakfast and she can play with her best friends.

How does nature fit into her world?

His cell is his best bud. He really digs his iPod. His girl is the smart and cool Shika. He is spooked by the dark and he lights up every party. In his past life, he figures he could have been a nomad dude, traversing wide plains and deserts.

Why in the world would he want to dance with cut-out horses?

She's accomplished. Ballet dancer turned consultant. She can cook a fine meal and discuss a book. She has a great sense of humour. Her comfort food after a tough day is a tall glass of steaming teh tarik.

How would you paint her world in a different light?

He made it. He has worked his way through the school of hard knocks and survived the haul to the top. Now, he wants to savour the view. His aim is to coast a little before he gets on the go again.

How do you teach a high flier about greater heights?
